Miscellaneous.

Young children dressed in white are thought by medical men to be more susceptible to colds and infectious diseases than those clad in dark warm colors.

Very few people realize the extent of the banana trade the United States has with the Central American and other tropical countries. Last year 12,582,550 bunches were imported into this country against 9,092,557 of the year before, or an increase of over 25 per cent.

Dr. Viorot, one of the most distinguished physicians of the Paris hospitals, makes a striking proposition for the transformation of human bodies into indestructible mummies by means of a process of electroplating. By this means the entire form is surrounded by an envelope of metal, which preserves each feature in the semblance of life.

The late Gen. Albert Pike conducted deep researches into ancient Aryan literature in pursuit of hints of early magical practices. The seventeen quarto volumes of translation which are the fruit of his labor are in manuscript, written in an elegant manner upon fine paper. There is not a blot or an erasure from one end to the other, and the writing, done with a quill pen of the old-fashioned kind, is like copper-plate. Each volume numbers 1,000 pages.
